Whether it's international peace, local police, or other human rights issues, Flying Focus and Peace and Justice Works' activities have intertwined for the past twenty years. Some of Flying Focus' earliest programs covered the police review system in Portland and PJW's Peace and Justice Fairs. Many of the major mobilizations against the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan since 2001 are also subjects of Flying Focus shows. FFVC also extensively covered the 2004 national conference on police accountability hosted by Portland Copwatch.
